PRINCESS ANNE HIGH SCHOOL
LYNNHAVEN, VIRGINIA

FOREWORD

Little does a person know of what lies hidden in the depths of the future; little does the high school student understand what will face him after graduation. At Princess Anne, each student is given many opportunities to inform himself of his duties as an individual and to prepare himself for what will be demanded of him as a mature adult. During the last years of his high school career, the student is guided by the valuable experience and knowledge of his teachers, and he is offered the benefits of the diversified courses and modern facilities in the school.

The search for happiness is equally as important as the quest for knowledge; therefore, life at Princess Anne is accented by an endless whirl of gay activities and happy times. Toward the end of the last year, the seniors gather at a ball in their honor. Soon afterwards, while the music of the band is still fresh in their memories, they hear another song—their alma mater being sung for the last time as they receive their diplomas. At this point their training is over, and they are ready to travel the "road of life." The knowledge which they have gained at Princess Anne will give them confidence to face the responsibilities of the future; it will give them a strong, stable foundation on which to build their lives.

*Be a real

The High School Years:

the lapse of time between childhood and maturity,

the period soon after the passing of ignorance into the blossoming world of knowledge;

a searching time for individuality and ideals.

Yes, the "creative" years,

where Princess Anne High School is the master sculptor who gently molds the soft, unhardened clay into the strong and educated adults of tomorrow.

No adjectives can truly describe those young adults who will someday hold in their hands

the fate of our nation.

Working — singing — creating — but most of all being together as a team is the goal of Princess Anne students, and in order to accomplish this, they strive for a feeling of oneness. Each person puts forth his own effort and time toward making Princess Anne a school loved and cherished by all. The accent here is on the student body of PA and on the spirit and comradeship which emanates from them. It is their determination and devotion to the fulfillment of their goals in life that make them the guiding spirit of Princess Anne High School and the leaders of tomorrow.

ac'cent on guidance . . .

In schools having as many students as Princess Anne, group assemblies are often impossible or difficult to have. In this pep rally, Mr. Sachon talks to the entire student body about school spirit and good sportsmanship.

It is the function of the teachers and counselors of Princess Anne High School to inform, guide, and aid each student in the attainment of his future goals. This job is an important one, because it is chiefly through the counselor that the student gains information about the many professional fields which are open to him. The counselor also plays an active part in pointing out whether or not the student is suited for the particular job or field that interests him.

In the classroom, the teacher is both friend and taskmaster. Although the student may not find homework and tough assignments a pleasure, nevertheless, they are necessary in preparing him for the demands he will encounter in college or in a job. If anyone has trouble doing his work or finds that he needs advice on some subject, the teacher is always willing to lend a helping hand. If a student does not avail himself of the valuable experience and training which each teacher has to offer, he may lose precious time in entering the field for which he is best qualified. A close look at any activity or function that takes place at Princess Anne will illustrate the many ways in which the faculty and administration aid and advise the students.

Typing and shorthand are standard requirements of those students who hope to enter the business world. These girls are transcribing letters under the supervision of their teacher.

Here we see the hard-working teachers of Princess Anne struggling to get final grades in order and to record them on report cards.

As these teachers seem to be illustrating while they relax in the teacher's lounge, the motto of the faculty is not "all work and no play."

Princess Anne is pictured here in moments of serenity and solemnity. The simple, yet beautiful, lines of the building accent its symmetry spaciousness and add a touch of grandeur to its appearance.

The atmosphere of Princess Anne—laughter, conversation, lockers slamming, the rumble of footsteps on the stairs, excitement, bells ringing for classes, and a multitude of other things—makes high school life a never-to-be forgotten experience shared and cherished by all.

"Down, set, 1-2-3 . . ." these shouts were heard above the whistling of the wind on the football field. The Powder Puff teams lurched into action, one team trying to get through the line, the other attempting to complete a pass downfield. Exciting moments such as these are the highlights of athletic events at Princess Anne. Throughout the seasons of the year, some form of athletics is taking place, whether it be in the practice or competitive stage. Football, basketball, track, wrestling, and baseball are the major sports in which students participate.

Golf, tennis, swimming, volleyball, and hockey are among the others offered by the school. The thrill of belonging to a Cavalier team and fighting for the honor of being among the top teams in tide-water is never forgotten by Princess Anne athletes. Each person connected with school sports contributes to the exemplification of school spirit and sportsmanship. Coaches, managers, cheerleaders, and student supporters deserve as much recognition as those who are members of the teams. Without these people, there would be no accent on sports.

Each year as the twenty-five hundred students return to Princess Anne, they are greeted by an efficient and very capable administration. The administration is responsible for instructing, influencing, and guiding the students.

The members of the administration set a standard for the students. The office staff is the part of the administration that coordinates students and teachers.

It is their job to counsel the students and schedule them for the work ahead. The principal and the assistant principals are responsible for the school in every way. Their position is important in disciplinary matters as well as in setting the pace for the school.

Throughout the year the administration continues to receive the utmost respect from the students.

DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION

The students are the torchbearers of Princess Anne.

They breathe life into an empty building and make it a place teeming with spirit and activity.

As a measure of progress,
the student body is divided into three classes.
This division is necessary to insure that each person receives enough attention to fill his particular needs.
The Sophomore and Junior years are the difficult years in which students try to keep up with their studies as well as to assert themselves as a group.

At the approach of the Senior year, they are able to realize more fully the value of their previous experience and training, and they are able to apply that knowledge in preparing for college, business, or marriage.
Graduation brings a climax to these three years of study and activity. As the alumni look back on the years spent at Princess Anne, they feel a sense of pride for their classes and devotion to the Cavalier spirit.

THE SENIOR CLASS

The Seniors will never forget the first moments they walked through the Senior Doors or sat at the Senior Lunch Tables. These simple actions were the culmination of three long years of hoping and dreaming.

As Freshmen, they had been faced with adjusting to new routines, forming new friendships, and learning about the school. By the end of their Sophomore year, they had become familiar with all aspects of high school life and had joined various clubs and organizations at PA. Then, as they had entered their Junior year, they had become associated with the Seniors of '62 and had felt the excitement generated by those upper-classmen. Their anticipation had increased during the ordering and receiving of Senior rings and during the events leading up to the 1962 graduating ceremonies.

At last the Class of '63 emerged. Since September it has steadily rolled on to success. The Senior play has been praised as the best ever to be presented at PA. The class officers have executed their duties well and have helped the class to become unified. The candy sale, the exchanging of calling cards, dances, football games, Homecoming, the Senior outing, classes, and the inspiring personality of Mrs. Barnes are the lasting memories of this final year in high school; these are the memories of '63.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Miss Hughes, Sponsor; Jane Harrison, vice-president; Larry Legum, president; Angelina Constantine, treasurer; Nina Henderson, secretary.

THE JUNIOR CLASS

The class of '64, largest class ever at Princess Anne, continues to look up to its president, Larry Legum. Larry has been the president of the class during the freshman and sophomore years, and again he ably leads his fellow students.

The Junior Class continues to excel in its undertakings, including being the first class ever to defeat the seniors in the Powder Puff football game.

Now the Junior Class looks forward to its senior year with senior privileges, the senior prom, and Mrs. Barnes.

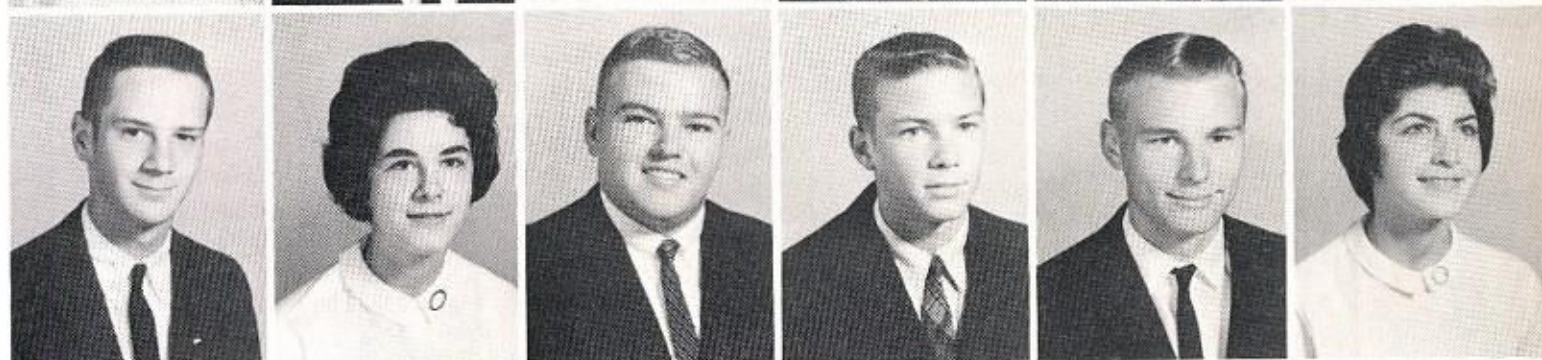

As the year draws to a close, the juniors realize that they stand together as underclassmen of Princess Anne High School for the last time.

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS

In September of 1962, five hundred anxious Sophomores entered Princess Anne High School for the first time. As they became accustomed to the new high school routine, they noticed the enthusiasm and determination of the upperclassmen. They experienced a strong desire to become a part of this progressive student body and to make the Class of '65 an asset to the school. Without hesitation they elected their class officers and began working towards their final goal. This goal is to obtain a position of respect and unity as a class before graduation.

The Sophomores have begun to study in the fields of art, science, music, dramatics, athletics, business, and social studies. The following Junior and Senior years will present them with the opportunity to further their studies in these areas and to participate more fully in the clubs and the extra-curricular activities of the school. By taking part in these school functions, the Sophomores will develop the true Cavalier spirit which shines over all. They gain the sense of belonging to something that is really great.

Princess Anne is proud of the associations which demonstrate the enthusiasm of the students to better themselves and their school.

Most of the students at PA belong at least to one school organization during the years spent here. The diligence of these workers has enabled many of the organizations to receive outstanding ratings in local and state competitions.

In addition to the attainment of these honors the clubs have set high standards of service to the school and to the community.

They encourage leadership, sportsmanship, and participation in worthwhile projects; they stress the development of good character; and they provide supervised social activities for the students' entertainment. The rewards offered by Princess Anne organizations are numerous; the most important are experience, friendship and encouragement.

This year's SCA initiated many new projects. Reserved seats were sold for all home football games, and the foyer of the auditorium was decorated before each game to bolster school spirit. A Student Exchange Day between area schools, a Patriotism Week, and a college scholarship were among the other new projects undertaken by the SCA. Also such traditional projects as Homecoming and the Orientation Assembly were carried out with success. Princess Anne is very honored to have Yasuto Kajiya here from Japan as its foreign exchange student. SCA funds were appropriated to bring Yasuto to the United States and to provide for his expenses during the year.

ADVISOR
Mr. Thomas Garrou

After spending many study halls, afternoons, and Saturdays working on the PEERAGE, Jan Meades and Nancy Foy, Co-Editors, are able to look back with pride on their hard work and frustrations. Another person who can emit a sigh of relief and satisfaction is Mr. Garrou, Sponsor. Photographs, schedules, copy, identification, typing, layout pages, ads, deadlines, and bills are only memories now, but each moment of the long weeks of work can be relived by scanning these pages. The PEERAGE staff hopes that the essence of the Cavalier spirit will be imbedded always within these pages and that it will grow dearer to each as the memories mellow with age.

Projects undertaken by the PAGE staff this year include the sale of school scrapbooks, Valentine greetings, classified ad space, and advertising space for school organizations. In addition, the PAGE staff has joined forces with the PEERAGE staff in the sale of plastic covers for yearbooks.

NATIONAL THESPIANS

This year the National Thespians produced Tennessee Williams' one-act play "At Liberty" for the Dramatics Play Festival. Miss Elizabeth Johnson, drama teacher, chose this play for its acting possibilities. Brenda Koon and Lynn Garner were selected to portray the two women in the play. The big moment for both came on March 22 when "At Liberty" was given a superior rating by the state Drama Festival. This achievement was gained after many hours of back-breaking rehearsal and after preliminary participation in the District Drama Festival, where the play also received a superior rating. The decision of the judges in the state competition was of primary importance to Miss Johnson and the cast because Williams' play is so controversial.

The Senior play, sponsored by the National Thespians, was chosen by Miss Johnson and produced by members of the Thespians and the Senior class. "Pride and Prejudice" played two nights for public viewing and one afternoon for students. It involved much preparation because of the large cast and the difficulty of obtaining period costumes and props. The success of the play was assured however when ticket sales reaped $1,000 net profit. The auditorium was filled to capacity both nights, and the audience was exceptionally responsive and receptive to the performance. Besides being hailed as the best Senior play to be presented at PA, the production was praised for its financial success because the profits were used toward Senior scholarships.

JUNIOR CIVITAN CLUB

Sponsored by the Virginia Beach Civitan Club, the Junior Civitan's main purpose is to serve the school and the community. During the past year, the club has donated money for the construction of a sidewalk on school grounds and has helped to beautify the school by placing murals in the foyer. Each year the club members collect for the United Fund and distribute food baskets to needy families at Christmas, Thanksgiving, and Easter. The proceeds from the Club's annual sale of fruit cakes go to aid the mentally retarded children of Lynchburg Colony. Each member, through his interest and participation in the club's activities, has helped to make Jr. Civitan a worthwhile service organization.

Junior Civitan Club officers are Connie Dyckman, President; Ronnie Hoel, Vice President; Barbara Messick, Treasurer; and Cynthia Bostain, Secretary.

Distributive Education, a professional organization founded by Louise Bernard in 1937, provides students with experience in on-the-job training and classroom theory. The main objectives of DE are to develop vocational understanding, civic consciousness, social intelligence, and leadership skill. Each DE student must be employed in a phase of distribution. Classroom studies relate to the students' employment. These studies consist of orientation, human relations, selling tactics, merchandise presentation, the "three R's", and other related subjects.

This year Princess Anne was host for the District Distributive Education Convention. Nine area schools sent representatives to PA. Students participated in portions of the program and had contestants in professional contests pertaining to DE experience in school and on the job.

DE Club Sponsors are Mr. Stanley Futrell, Miss Sue Lassiter, Mr. Vernon Cherry, and Mr. Carroll Coakley.

FUTURE NURSES

Organized for the encouragement of girls interested in a nursing career, the Future Nurses Club offers to its members both instruction and opportunities to become acquainted with this worthwhile field. Discussions are held concerning the various types of nursing and on-the-spot training is afforded to those who volunteer to work in local hospitals or clinics. By means of activities during the year such as car washes and bake sales, club members earn funds to further their studies in nursing.

FORENSICS

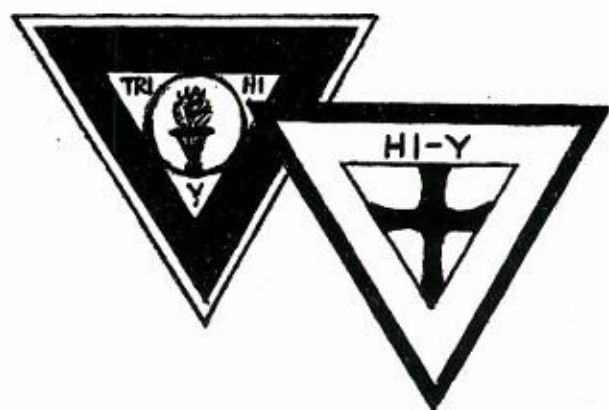

One of Princess Anne's most spirited competitions in the scholastic field is that of forensics. Students with talents in creative areas, as well as those interested in speech and debate, are given the opportunity to test their skills through forensic activities. Spelling, poetry and prose reading, public speaking, and debate are divisions in which students compete in local, district, and state competitions. The creative writing folio, which is judged by the Virginia High School League, contains original short stories and poems contributed by the students. This year, Princess Anne excelled in several areas, including debate, poetry reading, and creative writing. Brenda Koon received a district award for poetry reading, and Jan Meades earned a distinguished rating for her short story.

HI-Y AND TRI-HI-Y COUNCIL

The Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Council is the common bond among the Hi-Y's and the Tri-Hi-Y's at Princess Anne. Its purpose is to create, maintain, and extend high standards of Christian character throughout the home, school, and community. Its platform is clean speech, clean sportsmanship, clean scholarship, and clean living.

TRINITY TRI-HI-Y

The main objective of Trinity Tri-Hi-Y for '62 and '63 is to adopt a foreign child. In order to obtain this objective, Trinity is carrying out various "money-making" projects. Among these are selling confetti at all home games and conducting a bake sale. Members of Trinity have not, however, forgotten smaller service projects in their desire to reach this main objective. The Trinity girls have wrapped presents for the mental hospital for Christmas, have made favors for the lunchroom tables on Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter, and have built a prizewinning float for Homecoming.

THETA TRI-HI-Y

The girls of Theta Tri-Hi-Y spend many long hours devoting their energy and interest to projects that benefit the club, the school, and the community. Through working together, the girls have developed lasting friendships and a firm understanding of the meaning of teamwork. The goal of Theta is to mold young women of strong Christian character and to make every girl an essential part of its unifying whole.

Best of luck to all of you. I hope you will always be smiling and adorable people. I hope we can meet again and allie good now and cft together this summer something - that man. God is

ATHENA TRI-HI-Y

Athena Tri-Hi-Y has spent the year in service to others. The girls of this club have adopted a lady who is blind. She is Mrs. Pauline Sykes, living at the Municipal Hospital. Club members are working in connection with the Lions Club to obtain books in braille for her, and they visit her as often as possible. Another project of Athena members is volunteer work at the Kings Daughters' Hospital. In February, Project Handclasp was sponsored by the club to collect articles for countries in need all over the world. This is quite an inspiring list of projects for one club to handle, and Athena Tri-Hi-Y girls are proud of their achievements.

SCEPTER TRI-HI-Y

This year Scepter has shown interest in the school and the community through various projects and services. Its members were responsible for a safe driving campaign and for the annual Favorite Teachers Contest. Its members visited the children's ward in the King's Daughters Hospital and gave canned food to an impoverished family. The performance of these tasks demonstrated the co-operation of the club's members and proved that Scepter is an active service club with a high standard to maintain.

Scepter girls who look back on this year's activities will grin at the thought of their Homecoming float which sported a yellow beatnik cat urging PA to "Beat 'em like crazy!"

Everybody pitches in to build Scepter's Homecoming float.

*Good luck,

The girls of Quo-Vadis take great pride in their projects which help to make the community a better place in which to live. Some of the planned projects of the year included giving a scholarship to a senior girl, collecting pennies for World Service, sponsoring a Toy Party, and giving a party for the children at St. Mary's Children's Home. Fellowship always ranks highly to the girls of Quo-Vadis.

CORONET TRI-HI-Y

In 1962, Coronet Tri-Hi-Y was awarded a trophy for the "most improved club." In order to keep this achievement thriving, Coronet members began working on projects during the summer months.

Throughout the school year, these girls collected money for Unicef, gathered canned goods for the needy, made a study of religions, and had their annual fashion show.

As in the years past, Coronet members sponsored the Mr. Wonderful contest in which students cast penny votes for their favorite senior boy. Also a tradition at PA is the student-faculty basketball game held in the spring which Coronet sponsors.

Sigma Phi Hi-Y and Quo Vadis Tri-Hi-Y combined efforts in designing and building this attractive float. Their slogan proved appropriate for the game as Princess Anne quite effectively "snipped those Snappers."

SIGMA PHI

HI-Y

1962-1963 has proven to be the finest school year Sigma Phi Hi-Y has ever experienced. With an increased membership came a greater ability to execute both plans and projects during the year.

In an exhibition of strength and skill, the gentlemen of Sigma Phi "out-pulled" the ladies of Coronet. During the tug-of-war, members of both clubs at various times found themselves in "Ye Olde Mud Hole."

A slave sale, in which the boys of Sigma Phi were auctioned off to girls in the Tri-Hi-Y's, was thoroughly enjoyed by the buyers, but not quite so thoroughly by the slaves.

On a more serious scale, Sigma Phi members attended church together, donated money to World Service, and sent delegates to the District Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Conference and Model General Assembly along with other school and community projects.

In the world of today, physical fitness is a major issue. The President of the United States, John F. Kennedy, has advocated a strong program of physical exercises for all Americans.

At Princess Anne, the emphasis on physical growth is carried out by means of an extensive physical education and athletics program. The accent is on the development of clear minds, strong bodies, and good sportsmanship.

The entire school benefits from every game or meet whether its team wins or loses.

Although it is not possible for every student to participate in varsity sports, the support of the student body is necessary to insure school spirit and to spur the teams into action.

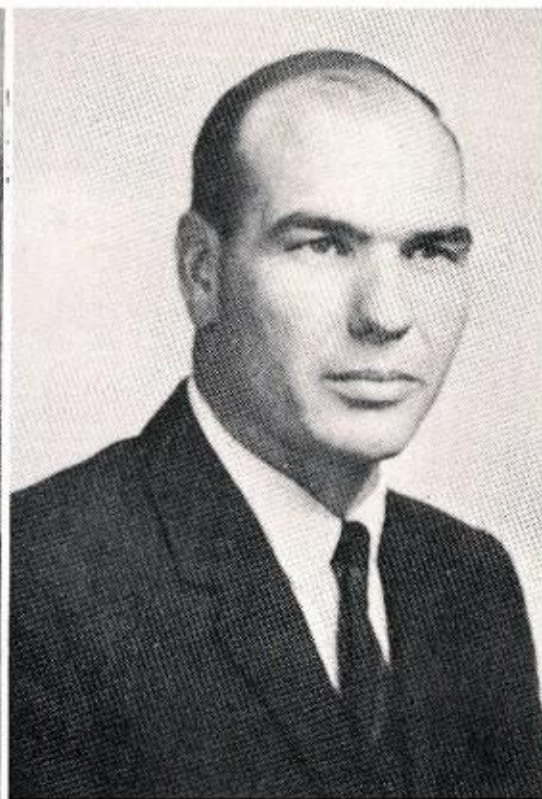

Princess Anne is proud of its excellent performance in the athletic field, and those students who are responsible for such achievements are regarded in the highest esteem.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

Autumn of 1962 witnessed not only the coloring of leaves from green to bright red and gold, but it saw the development of young, inexperienced football players into a strong, aggressive team. Having the lightest line in the history of Princess Anne, the Cavaliers faced a new season with only seven lettermen on the team. However, hard work and long practice sessions in the afternoons paid off, because the Cavaliers added another successful season to their list, as well as a few "firsts" to their record. For the first time, PA defeated the tough Norview Pilots. Coach Pete Sachon, who had started the Pilots on their winning streak several years before, turned the tables on them as a record-breaking crowd at Cox Stadium nearly tore down the stands in excitement. Secondly, this was the first time that the Cavaliers won games that they had been predicted to lose. The incentive, drive, and spirit of this year's team made it one of the finest ever to fight for Princess Anne.

Basketball success seemed to shine on Princess Anne this season. The JV's proved themselves to be just as skillful in defeating opponents as the Varsity did. In fact, it received the same rating as the Varsity, having earned third place in the district with a record of 12 wins and 5 losses.

"Bump him towards me," says Gary McMahan, "so I can grab the ball when he comes down."

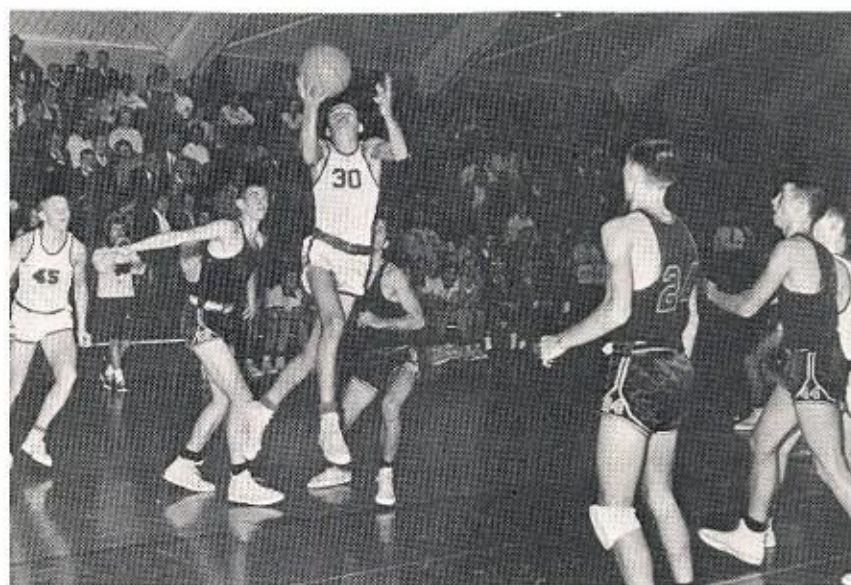

The Cavaliers move in to stop an opponent who "never lets go."

(bottom right) "I suggest we move ahead with great vigor."

"Watch it! I'm gonna make this one," yells Dee.

Princess Anne's Wrestling Team has had a successful season as their record below indicates. Members are (standing) James Fox, Lonny Gallagher, Bill Turner, Jim Miller, Jim Clarke, Brent Warford, (kneeling) Bill Brice, Robert Hogue, David Miller, John Smith, and Barrie Emerson.

WRESTLING TEAM

David Miller and Robert Hogue realize that wrestling skill demands much practice, so they often work out together in the afternoons during their exercise sessions

Princess Anne placed third in the Eastern District Wrestling Tournament. John Smith and Neal Shelby won the District Championships for their respective weight classes. Robert Hogue, David Miller, and Brent Warford came in second.

"Hi - Yo Silver!"

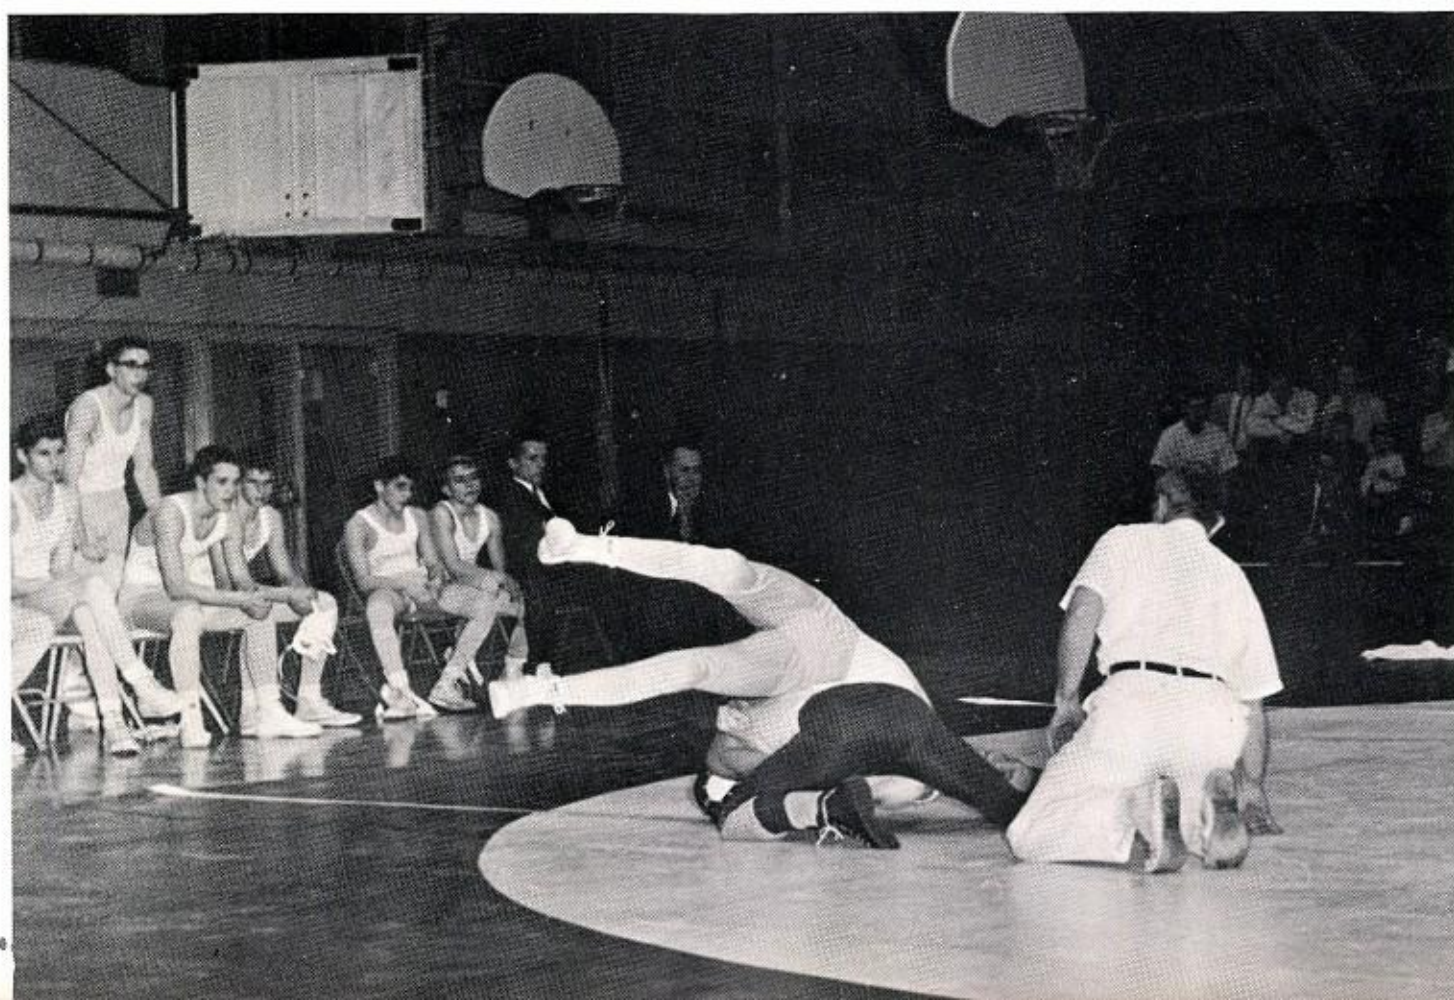

"Bottoms-up, Old Boy."

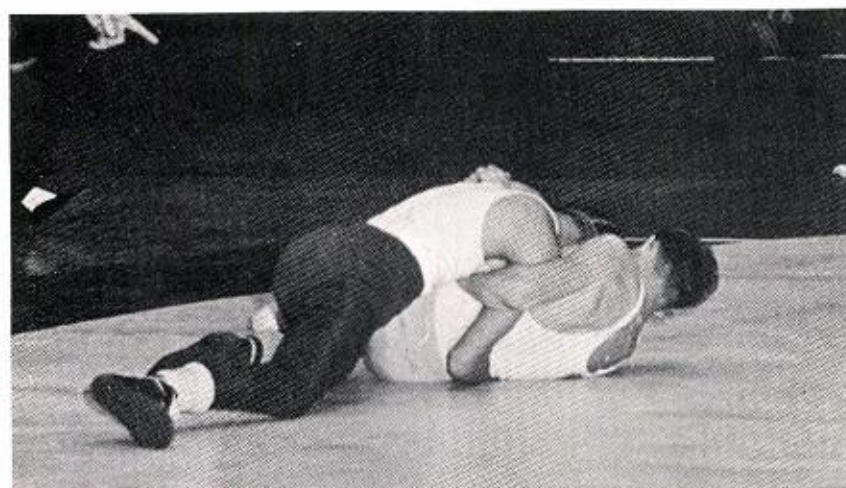

These wrestlers tensely await their turns on the mat.

"Lestoil would make the job easier."

"All right, Boys, the winner gets five hundred cases of rubbing alcohol, and the loser can have those leftover cans of axle grease."

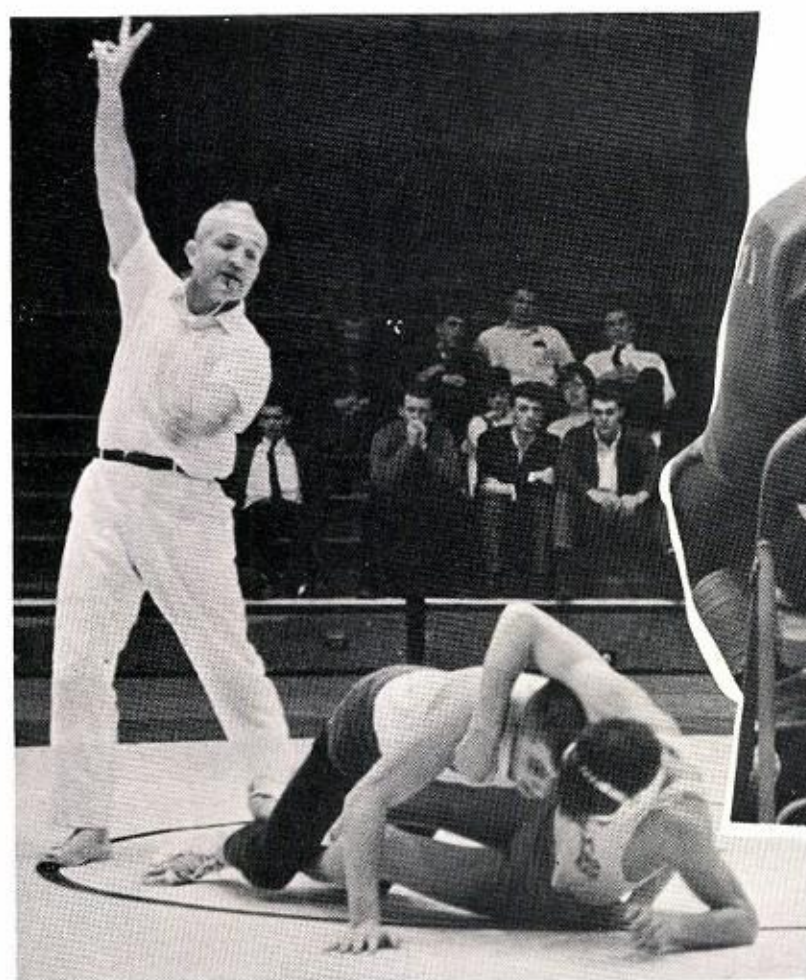

"I know I dropped those contact lenses around here someplace."

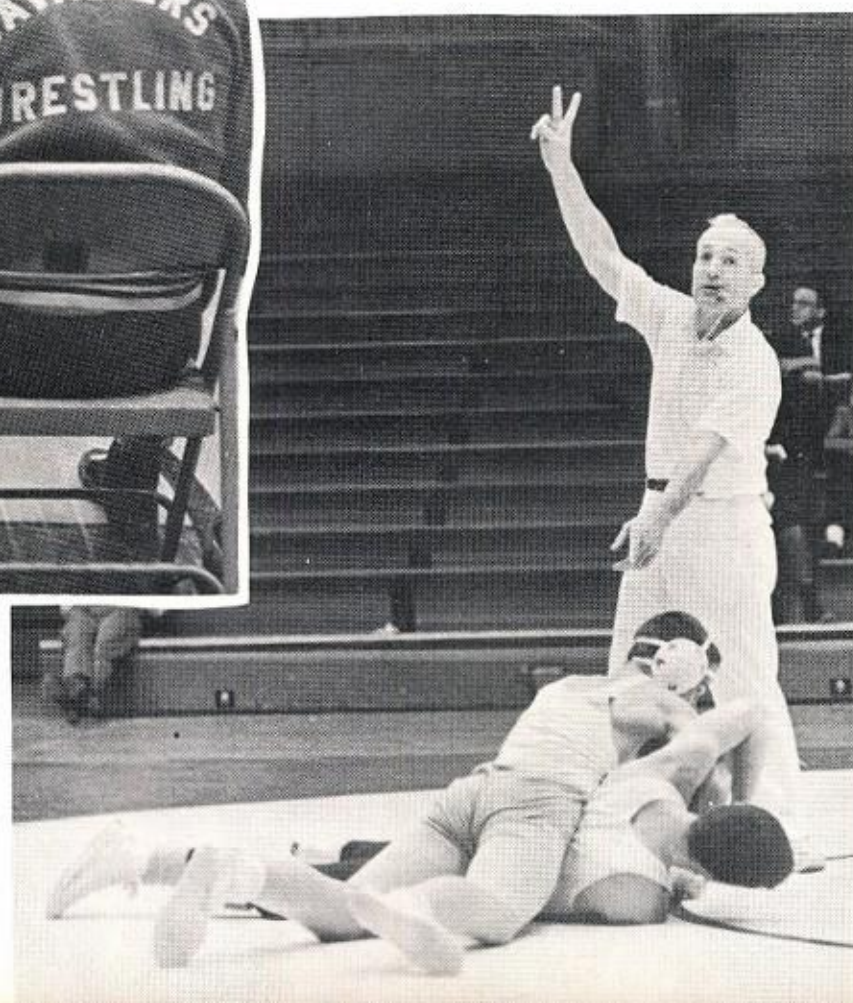

"Good grief! He uses that greasy kid stuff, too."

"You know sumptin'? I think he's practicing for the GOP national convention."

"Gee, Coach, I only ate three pounds of those chocolate-covered almonds. Do I have to sit here all day?"

"Of course I know that's two people! What else has four legs and two heads?"

"Let's have one over the plate, fellas, hey fellas . . ."

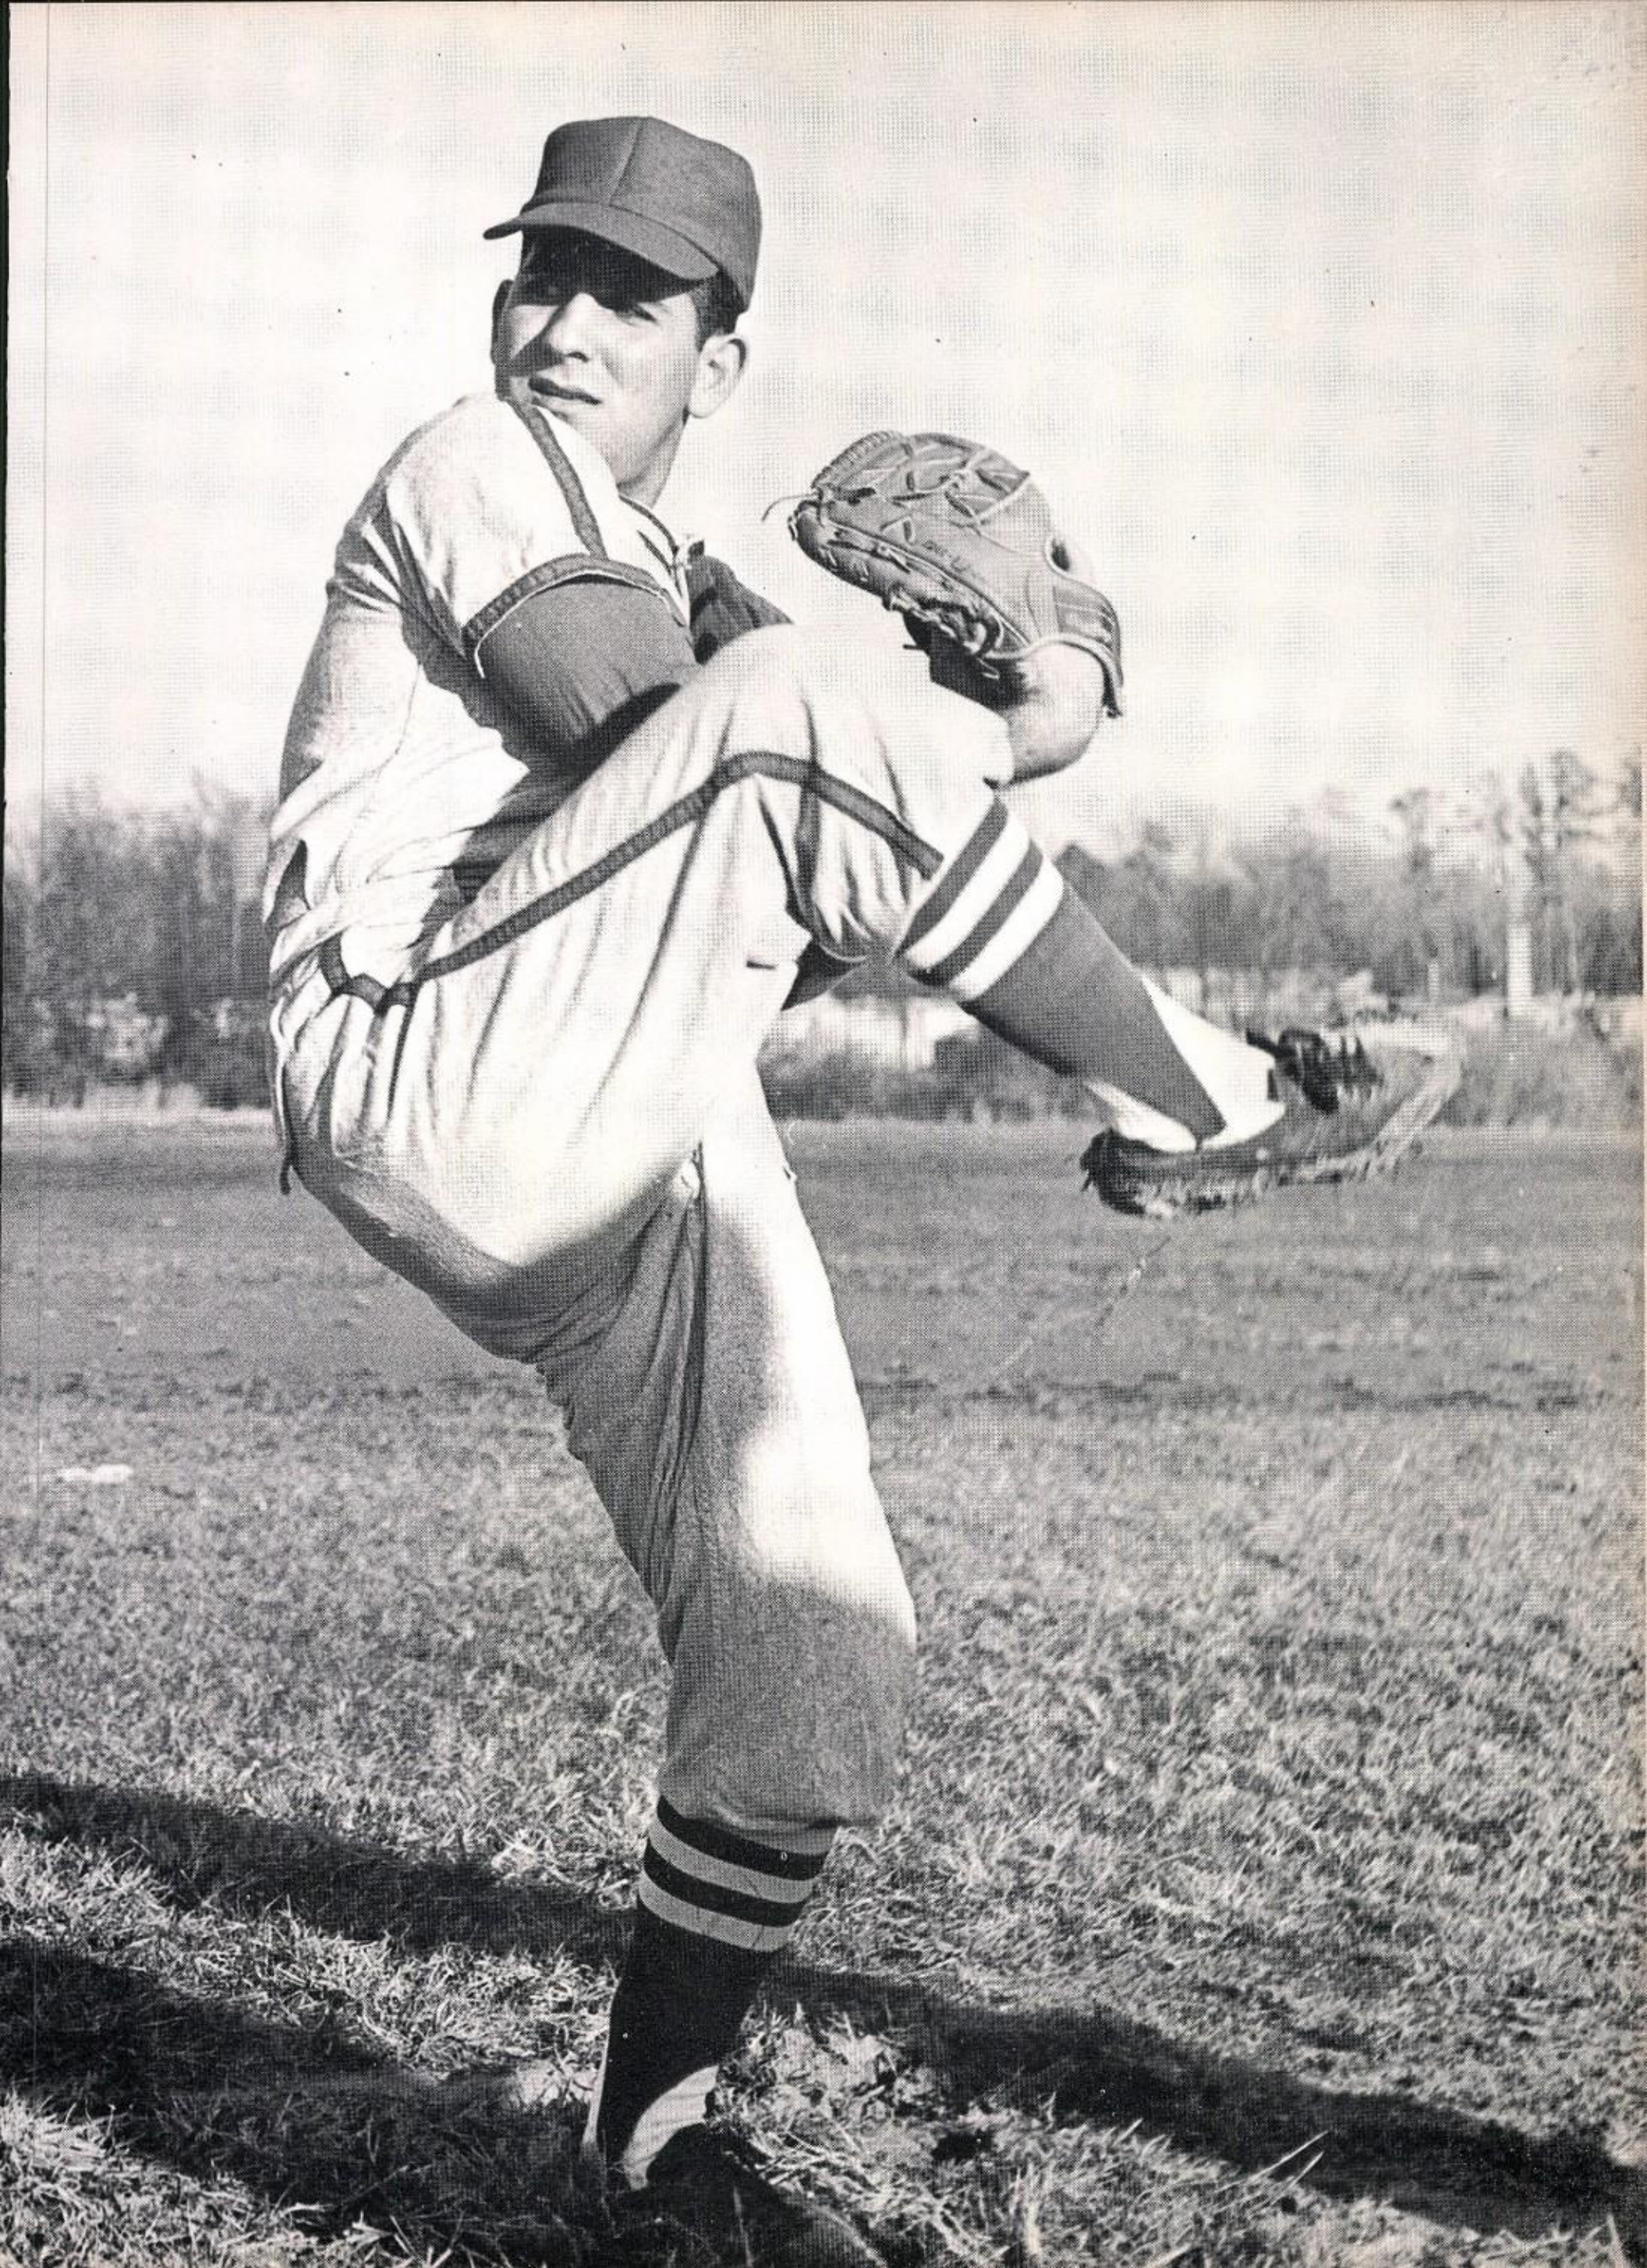

"Get a load of that swing! And her figure, too!"

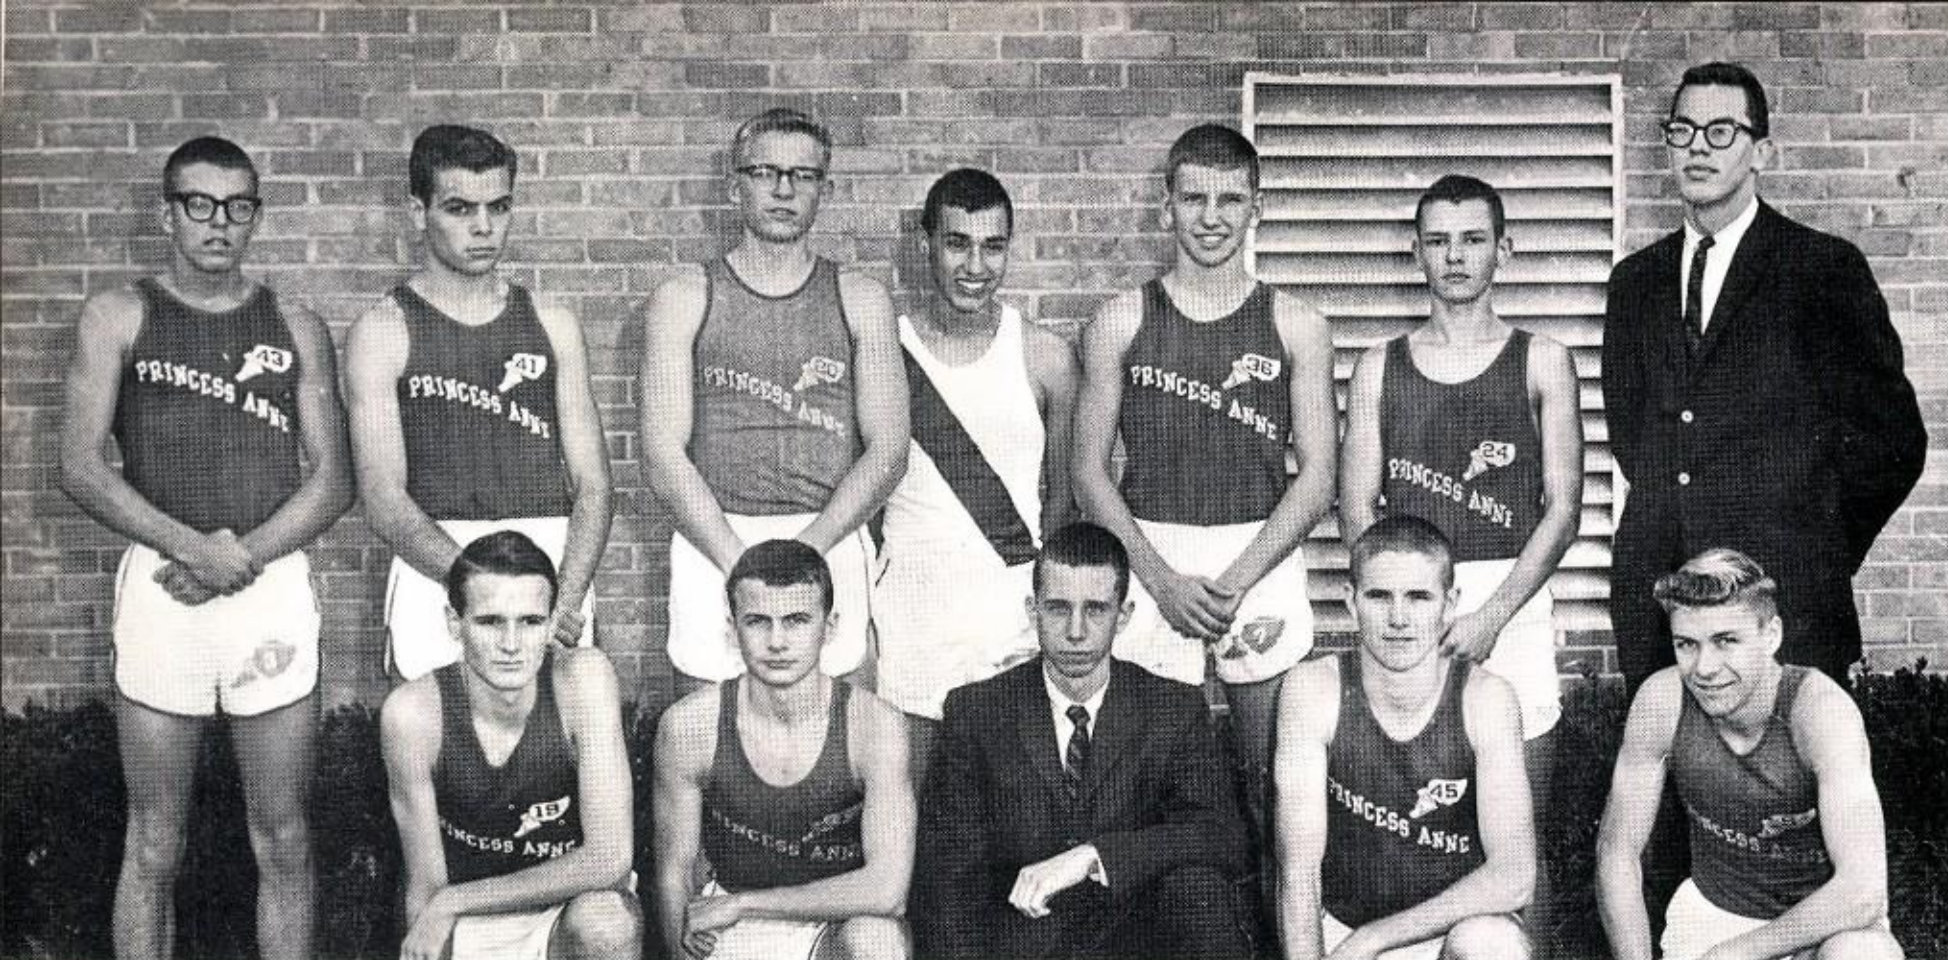

BASEBALL

With the coming of spring, another season of baseball opens for Princess Anne students. Batters, pitchers, catchers, and coaches exchange new ideas and hopes for the success of the team. Like football, basketball, and the many other sports at PA, baseball inspires the competitive spirit and affords sound athletic training.

"Now this is the way I used to throw the spit-ball." Coach Breedlove demonstrates to Jerry Bullock, Bob DeMille, Rick McMahon, Ronnie Hytinen, Robert Williams, and Rodney Clabo.

TRACK

Members of the Princess Anne Cross Country team participate in dual, state, and district meets. This year, the Cavaliers were unexcelled in dual-meet competition, having an outstanding performance record against all opponents. Jay Ferguson, a junior, won a gold medal and a gold trophy in the Eastern District and the Amateur Athletic Union meets. He is undefeated in dual competition, and he has led the team in every meet. Two other juniors, Don Smith and Eric Wayne, have earned medals this year and are looking forward to an even better season in 1964. Most of this year's squad members will be returning in 1963-64 to try to uphold PA's successful track record.

Don Smith, Fred Gray, Terry Gallagher, Rick Warford, Charles Wilson, and Larry Hightower.

 "I'll race you to the girls'

(Center right)

(Bottom right)
 "That makes forty-eight miles
 —only two more to go."

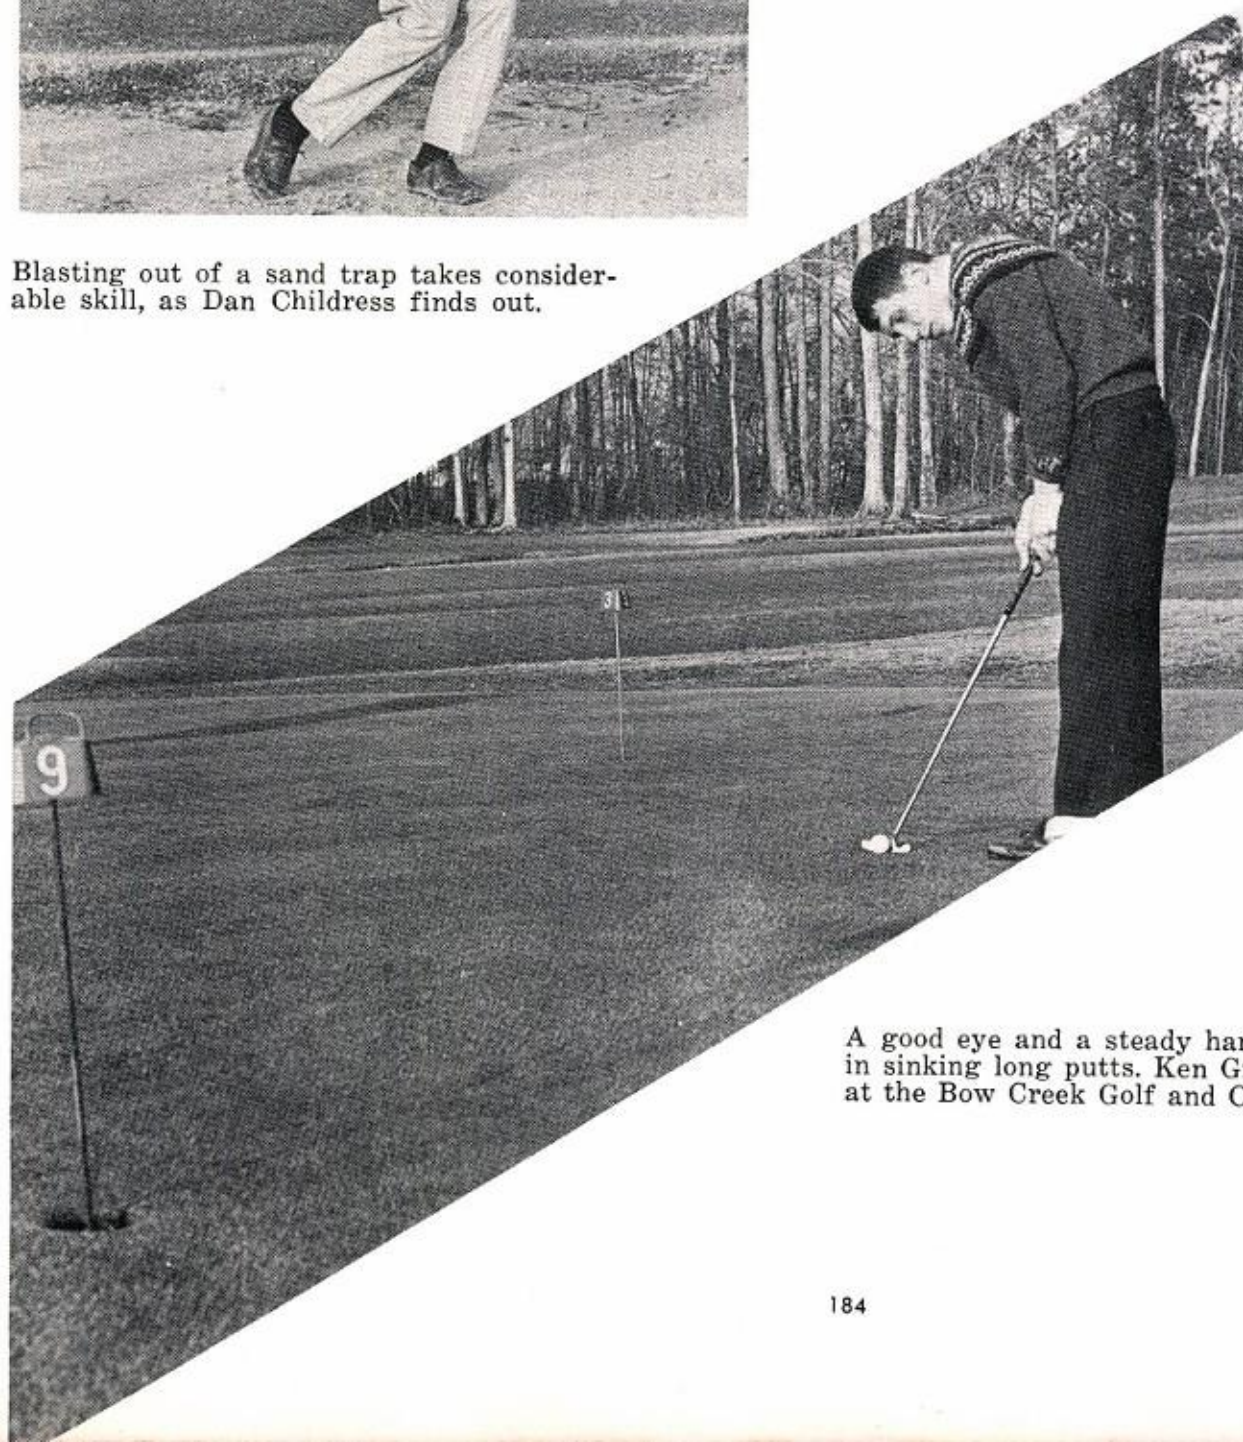

Members of the Golf Team practicing on the green are (kneeling) Dan Childress, (standing) Russell Smith, Al James, Glenn Rogers, Ken Grubbs Mr. Braun (sponsor), and Ronnie Wagner.

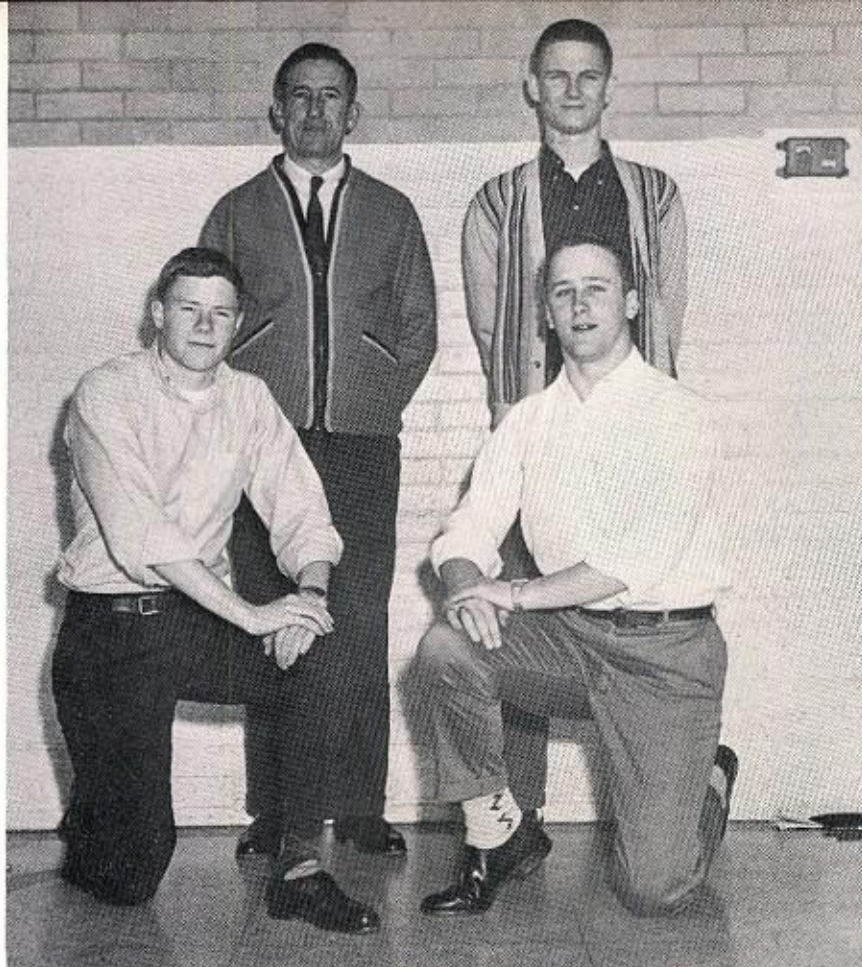

Blasting out of a sand trap takes considerable skill, as Dan Childress finds out.

GOLF TEAM

The Golf Team begins practice in early March and continues throughout the season. The four Varsity and four Junior Varsity members are chosen by elimination. A season is comprised of eleven matches; each of which is held with one of the Eastern District schools. The first match is played in early April. Sometimes non-scheduled matches are played with non-District schools. During the first part of May, the golfers compete in the Eastern District tournament. In the latter part of May, the State Championship is held between all the schools of the state.

A good eye and a steady hand are "musts" in sinking long putts. Ken Grubbs practices at the Bow Creek Golf and Country Club.

SWIMMING TEAM

The origin of the Princess Anne Swimming Team can be traced to a small group of boys interested in high school swimming competition. Although their swimming record for area meets this year was 0-7, they displayed amazing form for the short amount of time available for practice. The boys expect to recruit more swimmers for next year, and they are looking forward to a much improved team record.

Members of the newly formed Swimming Team are (1st row) Gilliam Tucker, Drew Haines, Paul DeRoche, Rick McAndrew, Robert Quarles, Jeff Herrick, John Kern,

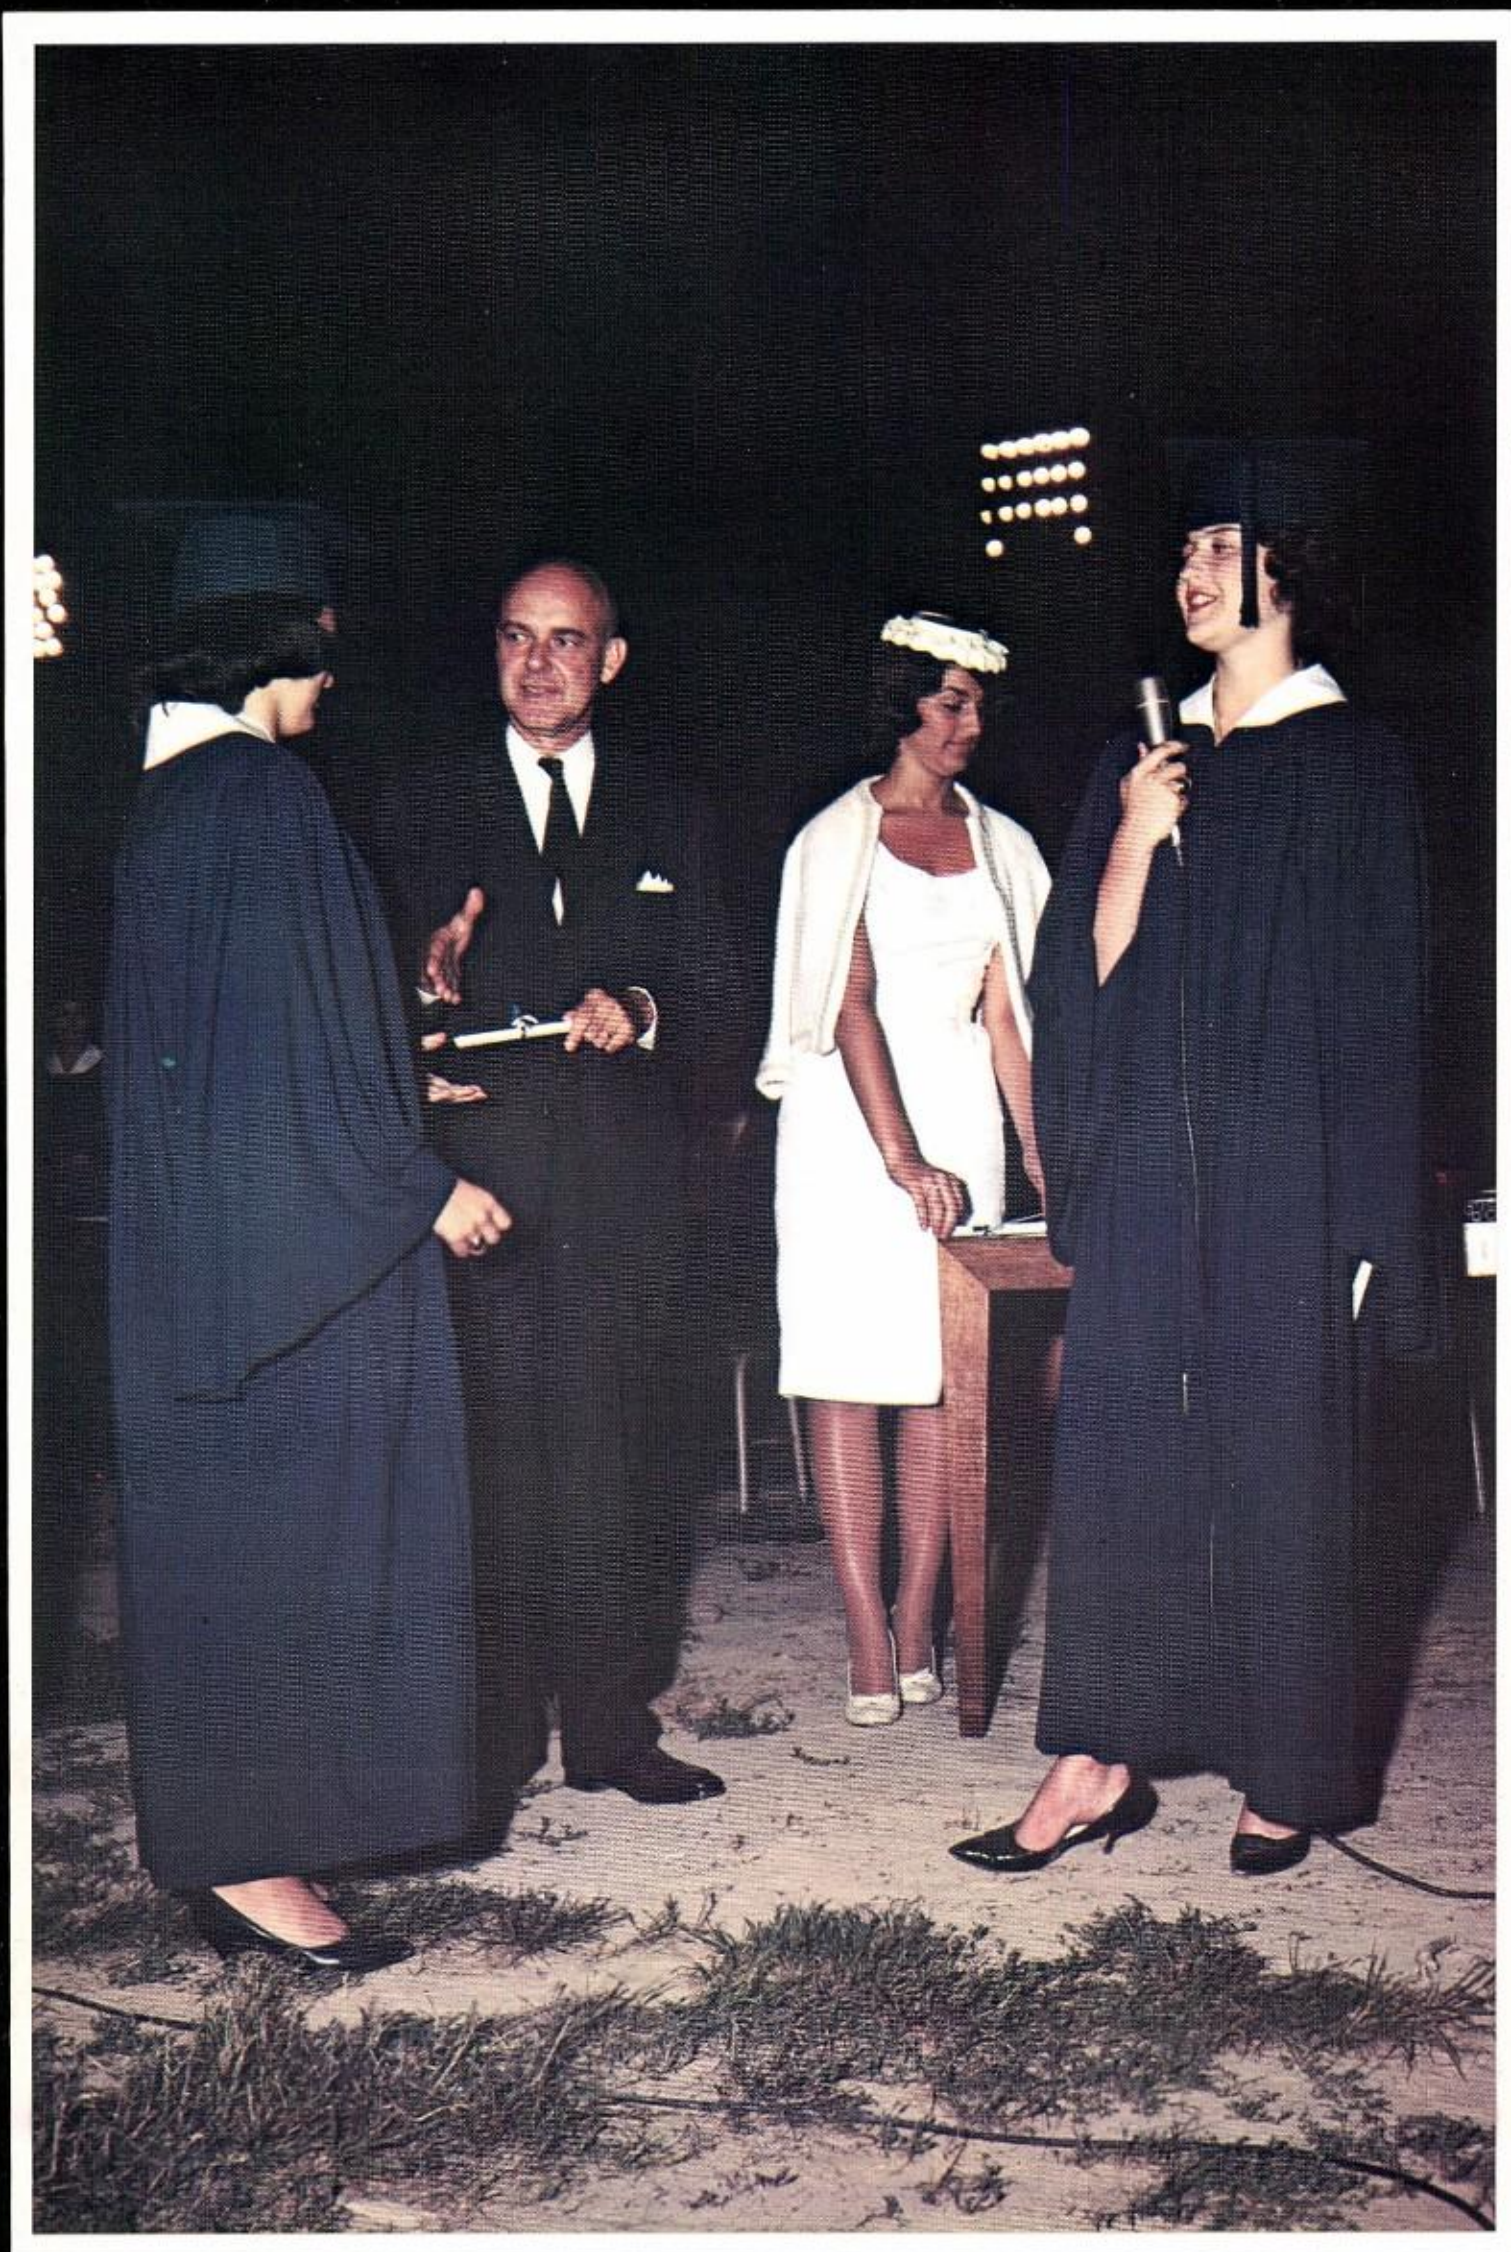

This picture isn't upside down, the diver is!

"Bang!" And they're off and swimming!

Activities are that part of Princess Anne which relieves the stiffness of daily routine and provides the students with opportunities to enjoy the fellowship of others.
Activities are, in a general sense, the combination of all the elements of school life.
They are designed to encourage students to participate in school functions and to emphasize the spirit of friendliness and congeniality.
The highlights of the year include the many thrilling events which occur at Princess Anne.
Academic achievements are given full recognition in this section of the Peerage in addition to outstanding honors in personality, talent, and participation.

1963 Homecoming Queen

Miss Nancy Adele Foy

In a blaze of pomp and glory, Homecoming '62 culminated weeks of anxious preparations. Beginning with the long-awaited Homecoming game itself, Princess Anne whirled through a weekend of successes. First was the colorful parade which launched the pre-game festivities. The judges presented the three top awards to the FBLA, the Trinity Tri-Hi-Y, and the Key Club-Keyette Club floats. Then came the highlights of the evening's events. Nancy Foy was crowned Homecoming Queen, and Buster O'Brien was awarded the trophy for outstanding player of the game. Shortly afterwards, the Cavaliers turned in a sterling performance on the football field by smashing Hampton with a 55-14 victory. The celebrations moved from Cox Stadium into the gym where the sock hop was held Friday night and the Queen's Ball, Saturday night. Amid the splendor of the festivities, one comment was heard that said what many people may have been thinking—"Thank heavens, It didn't rain!"

BOYS' AND GIRLS' STATE

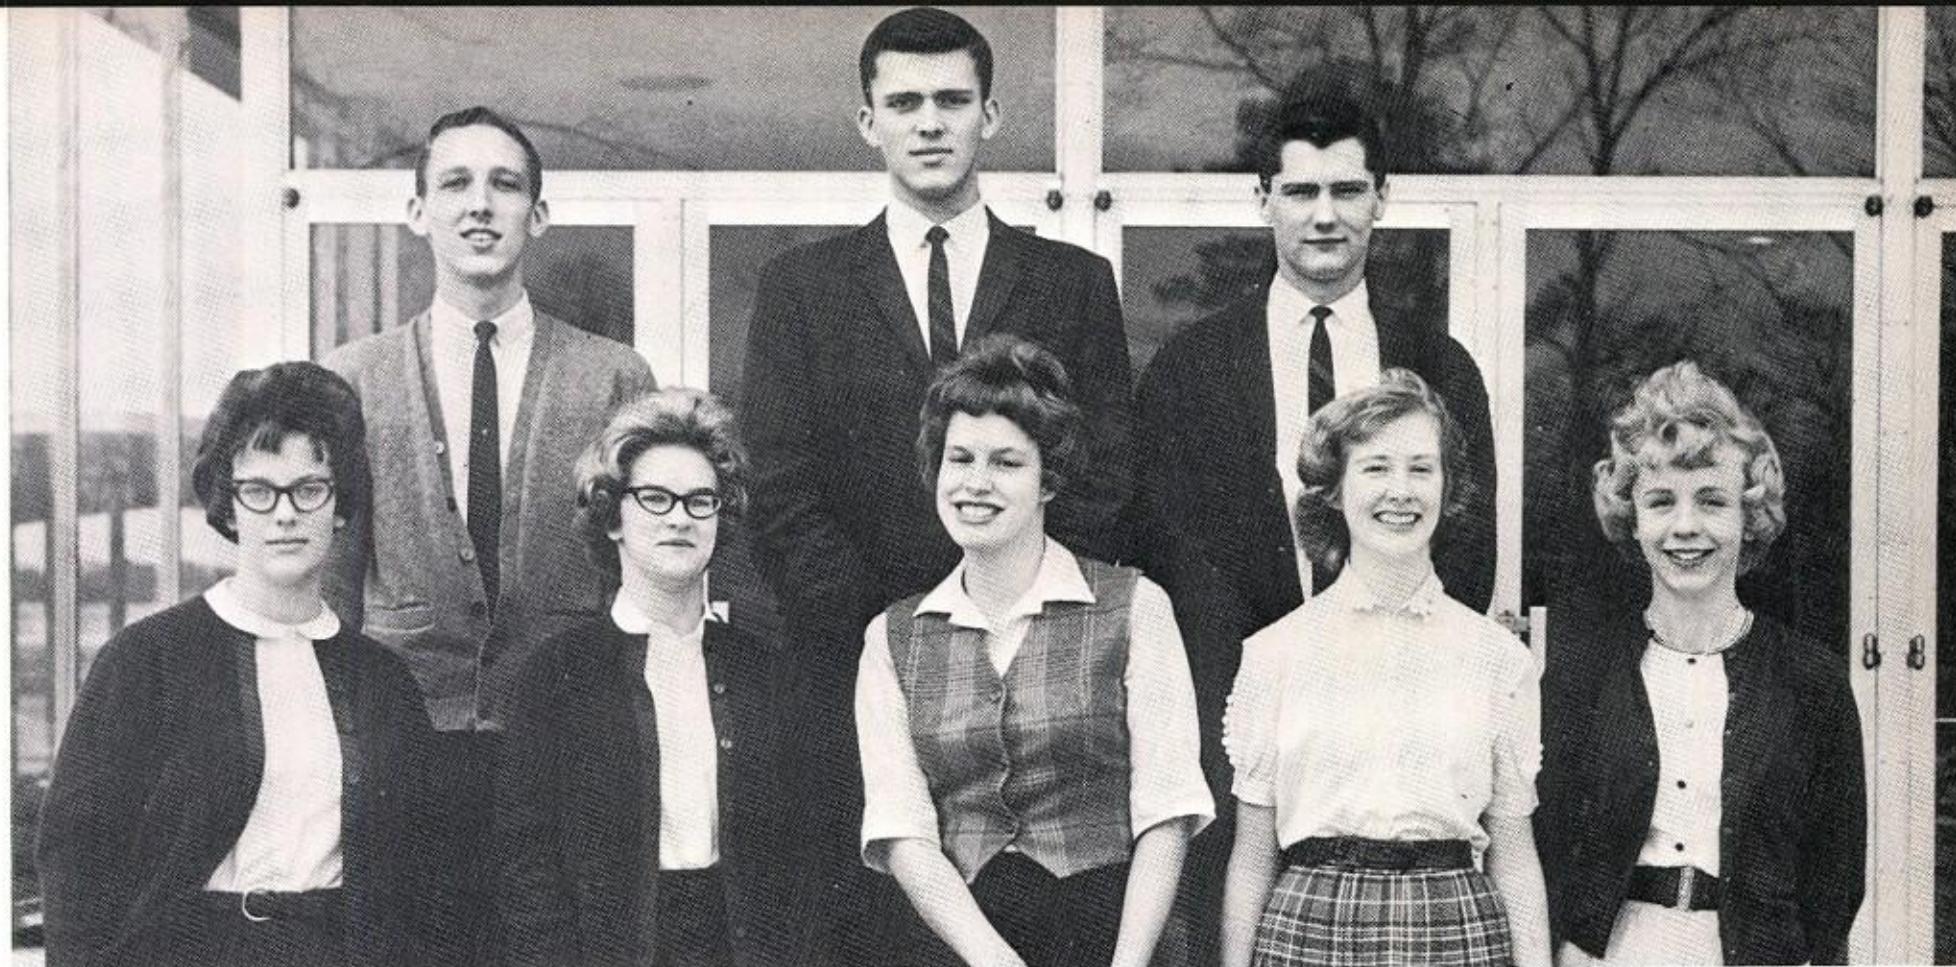

These Girls' Staters seem to be chuckling over pictures taken at Girls' State last summer. They are (top row) Brenda Koon, Claudia Frias, Susan Benbow, (sitting) Cheryl Marshall, Jan Meades, and Linda Gregory.

Outstanding in scholarship and leadership, the delegates to Girls' and Boys' State were chosen on the basis of their past records of service and achievement in the school. The girls participated in the American Legion Auxiliary's program at Radford College, and the boys spent their stay at VPI. There they learned the functions of Virginia government on the local and state levels, as well as the organization of the two-party system. These students held responsible offices in the legislative, executive, and judicial departments of the government.

What's going on here? It looks like the boys from Boys' State are having trouble trying to make an impression on the Girls' Staters. Good luck, fellas!

National Merit Scholarship Finalists: Phil Helgersen, Alan Elliott, and Paul DeRocher.

HONORS

This year several of Princess Anne's seniors received recognition for their scholastic achievements and honors. Three were finalists in the National Merit Scholarship Competition. Eight received the distinction of being on PA's Scholastic Achievement Team. Alan Elliott won a plaque for representing Princess Anne on the Tidewater Scholastic Team sponsored by the Ledger-Star newspaper. In addition, National Science Foundation Scholarships were granted to four PA students who were selected to attend summer science programs at outstanding colleges.

SENIOR SOUVENIERS

"Ray-rah, SENIORS!!"

CONSOLATION

Of income tax and sealing wax
Of cabbages and kings—
Of New Frontiers and lunar years
I know not a single thing—
I sit on the hill by my whiskey still Blythe and bonny and gay—
And wiggle my toes for the draft board knows
I'm still a student at PA!

The call to serve our country was made
What a thrilling sight, that big parade!
I cannot go, I'm sorry to say,
For I'm still a student at PA!!

Day must break and night must fall
And life goes on its way—
Serene am I, though old and gray,
For I'm still a student at PA!!!

A boy scout helped me across the street
Two boys on the bus gave me their seats—
My social security came in today,
And I'm still a student at PA!!!!

"You've got the wrong goal—it's that way!"

ODE TO 6TH BELL CLASS

(My Benzedrine Is Wearing Off)

Here we sit in Physics class
Hoping for the time to pass.
The sun has gone behind the hills
And dew is shining on the sills.
The chalk-white scrawls upon the board
Explain the text that we've explored—
Of slugs and dynes, and ergs and joules
Of Newton's laws and metric rules
We stuff and cram our aching heads
While longing for our soft, warm beds.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE YEAR

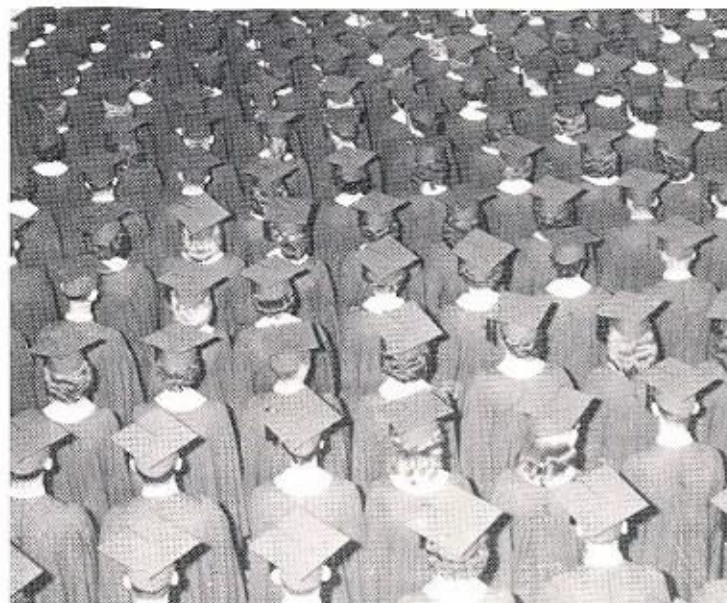

(top right) Morag Le Saos was crowned Miss Princess Anne.

Many beautiful floats highlighted Homecoming.

The Juniors won the Powder Puff 2-0.

The Seniors awaited the final moment.

Dreamy music and soft lights added that special touch to the memorable Candy Cane Ball.

Best wishes to you & Albie.

Princess Anne's favorite teachers, Mrs. Barnes and Mr. Rodriguez, discuss a literary work.

The cast of the Senior Play skillfully performs "Pride and Prejudice."

around are National Honor Society members, and standing in the back is the A Cappella choir.

Advertising is one of the most important features of the Peerage.

In this section, supporters of Princess Anne High School are given a place to present themselves.

By purchasing advertising space, these people provide the funds which enable the yearbook to be self-supporting.

The staff wishes to thank the businessmen and patrons for their financial aid as well as their encouragement. In addition, much credit is due to the students who have spent time and effort in securing these advertisements.

Their services have kept Princess Anne in a position of highest respect in the community.

Remember, America... and me

"Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty."

—Thomas Jefferson—

In the historic land served by Virginia Electric and Power Company, this warning is not easy to forget. On every hand, contrasted with the landmarks of this progressive, growing area, are the monuments to America's unending fight for freedom.

But freedom cannot be preserved in stone or defended by monuments. Freedom must exist in the heart of the individual. It must be championed by the living.

The freedom to build ... to create ... to grow as free individuals in a free nation is our priceless heritage from the past. Its cost is our eternal vigilance.
